BOVRIL ISN'T DEAR,
in fact, value for value, it is one of the cheapest drinks and one of the most economical foods that can be obtained. A cup of hot Bovril costs less than a drink of whisky, and while giving a more genuine and lasting warmth than the latter, contains, in addition, the nutritive principles of beef worth many times its cost.

Old fashioned beef teas and meat extractions, whether known as such, or disguised under more pretentious modern names contain none of the NUTRITIVE properties of beef. Baroness Liebig herself admitted this fact; there is not a doctor to-day disputes it. Used as a replacement Meat Extract is probably the most expensive article one can buy. Bovril one

MEXICO AND FREE SILVER.

The following article, extracted from the Boston Herald of the 19th ult., will be found of deep interest at the present moment—

For some time the silverites in this country have pointed to the prosperous condition of Mexico as a proof of what a country can do on a free silver basis. In this regard the evidence of Senor De Enriquez C. Creel, a financial authority of national repute in that country, may be of interest. In his opinion, the evolution in favour of the gold standard has already started in Mexico, and he predicts that it will advance and gain in strength from year to year. The reason for this, in his opinion, is that the relations with gold standard countries, the influence of foreign capital and the credit of the country all tend to induce the people to demand a gold standard, and it is only a question of time when this demand will be so strongly made that it will have to be granted. When this time will come he could not say. It might possibly be a dozen years or longer. At the present time he would

N. T. ADVOCATE A CHANGE, for the result might prove a failure, and in such a case would delay the final adoption of the gold standard for many years more. But if Mexico continues to increase her ratio of prosperity and to enjoy the good government which now exists there, he thinks the change may come even sooner than the limit he has set. Mr. Creel goes quite fully into the reasons for a change in the monetary system, reasons which are given much too fully for publication at this time. Among them, however, may be mentioned the decline in the price of silver, which, he declares, "is at the present buying the general interests of Mexico."

The agricultural interests of the country are divided into two classes, home consumption and exportation. With the first class the price of silver is almost indifferent, particularly as the Mexican farmer consumes but a very small amount of imported goods, so that the value of his dollar is only considered for home or domestic transactions. But the farmer who raises for export is a strong advocate of the present system. He pays his labour and many of his other EXPENSES IN SILVER, while he sells his products abroad for gold. This gives him an advantage, and an advantage that he will hold to firmly if it is possible. In time, however, Mexican wages may advance until the farmer has to pay for his help in silver double the rate he would have to pay in gold. From that time on he would be no longer interested in the retention of the silver standard. With mining one of the great industries of Mexico, labour or wages represents nearly 85 per cent. of the cost, while supplies represent only about 15 per cent., and here again the great bulk of the expenses is paid in silver, while the product of the industry is sold for gold, and in many cases the dividends paid to foreign owners of Mexican mines are also based on gold. The railroads, too, have been built by outside capital to quite an extent, and on these the interest and dividends are paid in gold, while their receipts are in silver. Mr. Creel states, on this point, that he has been told that the Mexican Central Railway loses $200,000 a year for every one cent of reduction per ounce in the price of silver.

There is a feeling among Mexican business men, according to Mr. Creel, that the gold standard countries do not have as much confidence in the silver countries as they do in those that have the yellow metal for their monetary standard. For this reason the credit of Mexican banks is often not as high in foreign countries as it should be, and he was, therefore, of the opinion that

A CHANGE OF STANDARD would benefit the banking interests. At the present time wages are low in Mexico, low even when measured by the silver standard. The common labourer on the farm earns at present only about thirty-seven cents a day, and other labour can be hired as cheap as fifty cents a day—this, be it understood in Mexican, not our own money. If a gold standard was adopted there certainly could be no reduction made in these wages. While the industries in Mexico may be assisted by the low amounts paid for labour, this fact also tends to keep down immigration, which the country unquestionably needs.

Mr. Creel considers the labour problem a very complex one, but he is of the opinion that, in the main, the gold standard will favour the working classes, and he says:

While some business will have to suffer on account of high wages, or if wages should have to be paid in gold, yet I am of the opinion that it would be better for the change to take place and to improve the present condition of our labouring classes. Let other business suffer somewhat and find the way of compensation. Compel our labouring classes to work more. Give them better food, more strength, more nerve, more education, more ambition, better wages, and compel them to increase the ratio of labour performed.

The great bulk of his evidence is, therefore, against the continuance of the present silver standard any longer than is necessary. This is the opinion not of a Wall-street goldbug, not of a trust magnate, but of a successful Mexican business man who knows his country and her people, and who sees in the silver standard a millstone which prevents Mexico from advancing as fast as she would industrially if she had the same monetary standard as the other great business countries of the world.

THE COTTON TRADE AND THE FAR EAST.

An address was recently delivered by Mr. O. P. Austin, Chief of the Bureau of Statistics, United States Treasury Department, before the New England Cotton Manufacturers' Association at New York. In the course of his remarks Mr. Austin stated—

With regard to "the Eastern peril," so called, or the supposed danger that the cotton manufacturers of the world may be overwhelmed by the cheap labour of the Orient when it is applied to the manufacture of cotton goods, the developments thus far have not justified that belief. On the contrary, the increase in earnings, coupled with the increased popularity of cotton goods which has come with the increase of cotton manufacturing in India and Japan, has resulted in each case in an actual increase in the importation of cotton goods during the very period in which the home manufacture of cotton was making rapid gain. In Japan, although the number of spindles in operation has nearly quadrupled since 1890 the annual average value of cotton goods imported in the five years ending with 1901 is double that of the five years ending with 1890; while in India, although the cotton spindles have increased in number from 1,400,000 in 1870 to over 5,000,000 in 1901, the average annual importation of cotton manufactures is now greater than in 1880.

"THE LONDON AND PEKING EXPRESS."

St. Petersburg, October 29. Russia has been displaying unusual activity for some time in the direction of establishing direct intercourse by railroad between Western Europe and the Far East. It may well be that in this case she is desirous of showing the outside world that by constructing the Manchurian Railway overland travel from the English Channel to the Pacific coast in the Far East will be possible in a comparatively short space of time. Towards the end of September there was held in Paris a conference of the representatives of the Russian and foreign railway companies with a view to drawing up the regulation to be observed in this new through-passenger traffic, which is to be begun early in 1904. Although the Siberian Railway cannot be considered as completed, for the present rails are too light, and there is still the line round the southern end of Lake Baikal to be finished, yet the passenger traffic is growing rapidly.

It is estimated that there will be henceforth 28,000 first-class passengers a year, and according to the International Sleeping Car Company, the through journey from London to Peking, via Paris, Berlin, Moscow, Irkutsk, and Inkow, will be made in just over 14 days; at first the journey will take 20 days. There will be a great variety of speed on the various sections of the journey; thus, on the French railway the speed will be 58 miles an hour, and only eight miles on the Trans-Baikal line. The average rate of speed per hour will be—Paris-Berlin, 53½ miles; Berlin-Alexandrov, 40 miles; Alexandrov-Moscow, 34 miles; Moscow-Irkutsk, 23 miles; Irkutsk-Lake Baikal, 17 miles; from Lake Baikal to Inkow, 20 miles, and 23½ miles between Inkow and Peking. Through tickets will be issued from London, Budapest, Vienna, Amsterdam, Brussels, Ostend, Liège, Rotterdam, Lyons, Marseilles, Bordeaux, Paris, Nantes, and from certain stations in Germany to be fixed later, to the stations Manchuria, Chabrin, Mukden, Inkow, Dalny, Port Arthur, Shanghai, Nagasaki, Peking, and Tientsin. These tickets will allow the holder to take two months on the journey, and the return tickets will be available for nine months. Every passenger will have the right to take 108 lb. of luggage free. In the case of the express trains yearly tickets will be issued, and they will include board on the trains, exclusive of wine. Children under five years of age will be carried free; children between five and ten years of age will be granted half-tickets.

In addition to the ordinary passenger trains, three express trains, composed of cars belonging to the International Sleeping Car Company, will circulate every week between Berlin and Dalny.—Globe.

HONGKONG, MONDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1902.

WEST RIVER TRADE.

Were any proof needed of the great importance of opening up the inland waterways of Southern China the facts and figures furnished each year in the Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs returns of trade and trade reports would supply it. "It may confidently be said that, in spite of its pirates, snakes, insects, inundations, plague, fevers, epidemics, heat, dampness, and a general disrepute attached to it by people for whom Shamen or the Shanghai Bund constitute the whole of China, the West River Delta, with its soil so rich and fertile, its people so intelligent, active, and progressive, its villages, and cities so easy of access, has, if peace gives it its blessings, a future, and a great future before it." These are observations by Mr. J. A. Van Aalst, the Commissioner of Customs at Shamsui, who has furnished a most readable and extremely interesting report upon the trade of the district during 1901, concerning which we may be pardoned for dwelling at greater length than usual. It will be remembered that by the terms of an agreement, signed at Peking on the 4th February, 1897, the Chinese Government engaged to open Wuchow, in Kwangsi; and Samshui city and Kongkum market as Treaty Ports and Consular Stations with freedom of navigation for steamers between Samshui and Wuchow and Hongkong and Canton by a route from each of the latter places and Kongmoon, Kumchuk, Shuihing, and Tak-hing were established as ports of call, the former having since been opened up under the New Treaty as a Treaty port. From each of these places the most gratifying reports are furnished by the Commissioners of Customs, and although the conditions of the surrounding district are such as to have an adverse benefit on both the import and export trade the returns show satisfactory increase each year. The trade of the West River Delta is a matter of grave importance to Hongkong, and furnishes no inconsiderable profits to those of our citizens already having commercial interests in the locality. The Commissioner of Customs at Shamsui points out that during the period under review the trade of that port and its principal stages, Kongmoon and Kumchuk, showed undoubted signs of its tenacious vitality and unrestrained tendency to grow and expand, in spite of terrorising practical spectacles and intimidating fiscal realities. Consequent upon the events of 1900 it was generally depressed, but soon after China New Year a "bustling revival showed itself in commercial matters, in local industry, in agricultural pursuits, and even in the elements: Custom receipts (the thermometer of commercial activity) increased month by month, the output of silk (the chief industry of the delta), attained a very satisfactory figure, the harvest of rice (the main staple of the district) produced two good crops, and the river (the highway of trade) rose to such a height that the flooded British Consulate had to show side lights to notify its position to the fleet of vessels passing it on all sides." When one realises that the likelihood at Samshui was capable of producing about Tls. 300,000 a year, some idea can be formed of the junk traffic passing the point, and of the revenue capacity of the place. From the report we gather that for 1902, the foreign Customs Revenue of the district was Hk. Tls. 174,707 made up as follows:—Samshui, Hk. Tls. 113,664; Kongmoon, Hk. Tls. 37,725; and Kumchuk, Hk. Tls. 23,318. This was the highest on record, in spite of the disappearance of kerosene oil, piece goods, cotton yarn, and other articles passed over to the Native Customs. Piece goods were driven away from steamers to junks and from foreign to native customs by the 5 per cent tariff, but the Commissioner is confident that when an enterprising firm establishes itself at the port for the purpose of dealing in those commodities, and commences canvassing the North River, Samshui will no doubt become a most important market. No better site for all junks and distribution could be found than Samshui.

shui, did not like and Chang Kuan conspire to retain the trade at Canton. Tanks, he states, could be safely and conveniently built at Kongmoon, where junks coming from Nanning and West Kwangsi with rice could easily take their return shipment of oil without having to go to Canton. This, he adds, will be some day, when fiscal competition comes to an end. The importation of kerosene oil, through the foreign customs, which in 1900 was: Samshui, 483,000 gallons, Shuihing, 199,000 gallons; Kongmoon, 35,000 gallons fell in 1901 to Samshui, 33,000 gallons, Shuihing, 124,000 gallons, and Kongmoon, nothing. The reason assigned for this was merely a saving of some $15 per 100 cases imported in native vessels through the native customs, illustrating the promptitude with which the Chinese trader will forsake one market for another if he can save money. The exportation of native goods steadily advanced, the most important items being fire-crackers, packing straw bags, straw mats, for beds, paper and rice birds, of the latter 21,000 dozens being tinned in 1901. As we all know, these birds are delicious when fresh; but, Mr. Aalst observes, after having been enclosed in tins, with highly malodorous grease, they become repulsive to the foreign palate. Their cost, moreover—40 to 50 cents a tin on the spot—would preclude their exportation to European markets. The delicacy is reserved for the Californian Chinese, together with equally unpalatable tinned meats, fish, worms, frogs, and fruit. The netting of these birds takes place in autumn, under the direction of Cantonese merchants, who travel there for the purpose, and after they leave with their harvest, not one tin of birds can be found in the district. Dried rats are also considered a delicacy in the Canton province, and cost about 35 cents a catty. Regarding the shipping of the port, the most important fact to be noted is that during the year changes in the nationality of vessels was observed. The British flag was carried by two steamers plying between Canton and Wuchow via Samshui, and by four others running regularly between the latter port and Hongkong. Five Chinese steamers connected Samshui with our own port, and two with Canton. Many of the steamers under the British flag were Chinese owned, the Hongkong regulations compelling them to fly the red ensign and carry foreign officers, the tonnage being over 60 tons. The Portuguese flag was flown on two steamers only, which plied daily to and from Macao. It appears that the aggregate cargo-carrying capacity of the vessels visiting Samshui was considerably in excess of the port's requirements, with the result that freights were lowered so as to leave but little margin for profits. We, however, have the assurance of the Commissioner, that great developments are expected in the delta, while steam launches have already exhibited signs of activity. Inward and outward, some 210,000 passengers, of which more than 130,000 travelled between Kongmoon and Hongkong, and 26,000 between Kongmoon and Macao were carried during the year, so that the importance of our new Treaty port as regards transport of passengers is quite apparent. In concluding, Mr. Aalst refers to the opium traffic as follows:—Very little foreign opium comes lawfully into the delta; clandestinely it is quite another affair, and it is said that smuggling via Wongmoon is carried on on quite an extensive scale by evil-doers using the various steamers visiting Kongmoon. It is reported also that a good deal of native opium finds its way into Hongkong by the same channel. Glancing at the Wuchow trade report for last year we find another very gratifying statement, showing as it does, in comparison with the net total value of the year preceding, an advance of something like one million taels, the best on record since the opening of the port. The total net value of the trade was Hk. Tls. 7,496,243 as compared with Hk. Tls. 6,554,591 in 1900, Hk. Tls. 6,134,183 in 1899, and Hk. Tls. 4,221,758 in 1898. On the other hand, there was a falling off in the exports which Mr. Ernest Alabaster, the Acting Commissioner of Customs, attributed to the complete failure of the sugar stocks, resultant upon the former season's bad crops, and when the figures are furnished for the present year one cannot hope to find any material change; for the province of Kwangsi, always more or less in a state of unrest, has been more than usually disturbed, and both trade and people have suffered much. The year under review was locally uneventful, with the exception of the unusual rise of the river. Building operations upon the British Consular property across the Fu-ho were continued, and at the other extremity of the port the American Baptist Mission commenced the erection of premises on a site adjacent to Messrs. Jardine, Matheson, & Co.'s property. A British firm, financed by Chinese capital and managed by a native staff was opened in the autumn and is said to be doing well. It owns one of the usual type Hongkong passenger steamers and are agents for another. In March the amalgamated companies placed an additional stern wheel steamer, the Sainam, upon the Canton-Wuchow line, and the move was fully justified by the satisfactory returns reported. Adverting to statistics, we find that the total revenue for the year amounted to Hk. Tls. 348,215, or an excess of Hk. Tls. 45,000 over the collection for the previous year, and being the maximum collection so far recorded. For this satisfactory position shirtings, yarn, metals, kerosene oil, and matches were chiefly responsible, the former having established a firm hold on the middle classes. The net value of foreign imports was estimated at Hk. Tls. 5,554,443, against Hk. Tls. 4,496,811 in the year preceding. Hongkong prices throughout the twelve months ruled low, and in this respect beans, which form an uncertain import on account of their being an actual production of the province, were considerably affected. A noteworthy feature of the imports is the distribution of foreign flour, which is so much in favour on account of its whiteness and purity for the making of comestibles. During the year 12,474 piculs were imported as compared with 3,658 for the corresponding period of the previous twelve months, and these passed to ten principal centres in Kwangsi, together with An-Shun, in Kweichow, graded in three qualities, locally priced at Tls. 1.70, Tls. 1.50, and Tls. 1.30 respectively per bag, averaging 37½ catties. The export trade, with the exception of sugar, was fair, although it is worthy of note to find that with poultry, 623,253 domestic fowls, &c., were exported principally from Kongchow, and were remarkable for their plump condition, plumage and weight. As for the native coal passed for steamer use, which is obtained from the surface of the areas in Kuei-hsien and Ho-hsien, the Commissioner points out that it continues smoky and crumbly, and is neither suitable for the household grate nor the furnace. Although the outward transit figures are below those of the previous year owing to the failure in sugar, the accounts place the prospects for the present year as good. Among the new items under this head appear China root (whole) and dried lizards, the latter chiefly coming from Nanning and Hsueh-chow, passing to the coast ports via Hongkong, and are used for the cure of consumption and elephantiasis and as a tonic. Regarding the shipping, the import entries—479—were practically the same as those of 1900, but the tonnage—96,540 tons—considerably advanced, largely from the appearance of the Sainam. The flags represented continued British and Chinese, the latter predominating. Freights on some principal imported commodities from Hongkong were as follows:—Cotton Yarn, 80 cents per bale; kerosene oil, 8 cents per case of two tins; window glass, 30 cents per box of 100 square feet; flour, 5 cents per bag, and bar iron, 25 cents the picul. These appear to be the principal items of local interest respecting the chief ports on the West River, and as the development of industrial enterprises, the extension of railways, and the expansion of the various resources of the district is pushed forward much greater results may confidently be expected.

THE REMAINS OF THE LATE VICEROY of the two Kwang provinces, H. E. Tao Mu, arrived at Shanghai from Canton last Monday and were the same day placed in a large native houseboat and towed by a steam launch to Chih-ling (Kashang) by way of the Soochow Creek. His late Excellency's family accompanied the remains.

THE ROYAL NAVY.—The tenders which the Lords of the Admiralty invited from Clyde shipbuilders a fortnight ago referred to a first-class cruiser of 13,000 tons, with a speed capacity of 22 knots. The guns are to be within the citadel, instead of in casemates, and will include several 9 in. weapons. The cruiser Squadron is being gradually strengthened, and will ultimately consist of the Drake, the King Alfred, the Good Hope, two vessels of the Brilliant and three of the County class.

THE GERMAN ADMIRAL, who arrived on Saturday afternoon in his flagship, Friedrich, accompanied by his Flag-Lieutenant, his secretary and the German Consul, landed at Blake Pier at 11 o'clock this forenoon. Two companies of the Sherwood Foresters, with their colours and the Band, were drawn up at Blake Pier to receive them. After an inspection, the party proceeded to Government House, where they paid an official call on H. E. the Governor, Sir Henry A. Blake, G. C. M. G.

THE LOSS OF THE VENTNOR.—A magisterial inquiry into the loss of the steamer Ventnor was commenced at Auckland on the 14th ult. the allegation being that the wreck was caused by negligent navigation. No charge at present is laid against the surviving officers, Cameron and Ure, both of whom were off duty at the time the vessel struck. Mr. Cameron, the first mate, stated that the captain was not the worse for liquor after leaving Wellington, and no liquor was served after striking. The compasses were adjusted in June last. The vessel was well found. The captain was justified in attempting to reach Auckland, believing that the watertight compartments would keep the vessel afloat. Eventually the bulkheads must have given way, as the Ventnor sank with amazing suddenness.

ITEMS.—From Japan paper we learn that the political world of Seoul is in a ferment again, but these complications are so frequent and so incomprehensible that the details are not worth giving. The total amount of gold coined, less recoinage, in Japan to date, is 293,790,000 yen, of which the sum remaining in the country is only 73,046,423 yen. An old Kobe resident proposes to sail to San Francisco with one Japanese sailor in a boat 27 by 9 feet, now being built at the Kawasaki Dockyard.

Mr. R. Clark, well-known as the "shore gunner" of the P. & O. at Kobe, died there after forty years' service in the Company on the 27th ult., aged 62.—Mr. R. J. Bennington, the popular chief officer of the T.K.K.S. America Maru, died at Yokohama on the 24th ult. The Peking and Tientsin Times say:—The R.M. steamship Clive, due at Shanghai on 18th December, will convey back to India the 10th Jats and all other details awaiting passage to that country.

TALE OF A LOST BIRD.—Before Mr. Kemp this morning, a bird dealer was charged at the instance of Mrs. Joseph, for using abusive language and alleged bird stealing. It appears that a few days ago, the complainant lost one of her parrots, which had been in her possession for the last eight years. On 9th ult. afternoon, having occasion to go to the dentist accompanied by her son, the complainant in question went into a bird-fancier's shop to change some money. Whilst doing so, she heard the familiar words of "Mother, mother, come here." On looking up she found her lost parrot. Naturally the bird dealer was asked to bring the bird down, which he refused and at the same time commenced abusing the complainant. Although she was willing to pay for the lost bird, and on being refused, she informed the police, with the result that Detective Sergeant Kerr and an Indian sergeant went down to the shop and got the bird. On the bird being placed in its rightful owner's "corkie" showed every sign of affection. The upshot was that the bird fancier was fined 25s. or 14 days, and the bird returned to its owner.

THE KAISER'S RESTING PLACE.—The new cathedral at Berlin is now in its last stages of completion. It is in this building that the Emperor has expressed his desire eventually to be buried. It has cost £800,000, and is a magnificent specimen of the architect's art.

PACIFIC CABLE CHARGES.—The Pacific Cable Board has fixed the charge for messages to Australia and New Zealand at 3s a word for ordinary message, 2s a word for Government messages, and 1s a word for press messages. The Eastern Extension Company is likely to lower its rates for messages between England and New Zealand.

PUNISHMENTS FOR DUELLING.—M. le Comte has introduced a bill in the Senate at Paris making duelling a misdemeanour punishable by imprisonment and fine. The bill provides, if death ensues from the encounter, for the punishment of the surviving duellist with imprisonment from one to three years and a fine of from $100 to $1,000.

NAVIGATING THE AIR.—The Rev. John M. Bacon and Mr. Stanley Spencer, of Spencer Bros., two distinguished aeronauts, have sailed in their steerable balloon from the Isle of Man, and landed safely in Dumfriesshire. A trail rope was suspended down to the water. The experiments were intended to ascertain the visibility of submarine boats at various depths. The gunboat Fenew escorted the airship and exchanged signals with it.

SHELL STEAMER CLAM.—The Shell Transport Company's steamer Clam has just arrived at Sydney with 450 tons of oil for that company, from Batavia. The whole voyage was made with oil-burned fuel. She made an average speed of 9½ knots an hour, which is half a knot better than her speed under coal consumption. Oil is sprayed into the furnaces by means of a steam injector. The most noticeable feature is the cost of operating. When using coal the Clam had a crew of 57 hands; now her complement is 40 hands.

UNSAFE BUILDINGS.—A veritable Niagara was to be seen this morning pouring its water into Queen's Road Central from a lane proceeding from Upper Lascar Row. It seems that the main waterpipe burst last night, near No. 7 Upper Lascar Row, where the water after coursing through the foundations and buildings in construction emptied itself into Queen's Road. It may be mentioned that these buildings, as they now stand, present a very unsafe appearance and what with the rains of the last few days meeting the bricks and mortar, and the bursting of the main at their foundations, the outlook for these houses when constructed is far from being safe.

THE FAMOUS KRUPP WORKS.—A writer in the Times gives an interesting description of the extent of the great Krupp Works at Essen. This vast establishment was the sole property of one man, the late Mr. Frederick Alfred Krupp, who employed 43,083 persons. A census taken in May, 1900, showed that the total number of persons connected with the works, including wives and children of those employed, was 147,645. The founder of the business in the first decade of the nineteenth century invested his savings in the new art of steel-making, which was then practised at Sheffield, and after fifteen years of unprofitable perseverance with his venture died, leaving the secret of steel-making with his son, a lad of 14. Eleven years later, after severe difficulties, a three pounder cast steel gun was finished. The late owner entrusted the management to a board of fourteen directors.

The uproarious behaviour of the Socialistic party in the Reichstag has resulted in greater unanimity on the part of the majority. On account of his behaviour Singer was suspended from yesterday's sittings. Richter, though against the Bill, condemns the constant and uproarious obstruction.

The Social Democrats are using every possible means to retard the proceedings, and it has therefore been proposed to alter the programme in order to get through with the second reading of the Bill before Christmas. The Reichstag proceedings yesterday were not closed till mid-night.

O.S.K. Steamer Disabled.

FUSAN, 26th November.

The O.S.K. steamer Sumidagawa Maru, which left Gensan for Fusan, broke down off the coast of Kashin Cape, 50 miles east of the former port, on the 24th, at 7 a.m. The propeller shaft of the steamer was broken; but the vessel was taken to Chosen Bay after great difficulty. News of the accident was wired thence to Gensan and a steamboat was sent to the scene from there this morning. The disabled steamer is to be towed to Gensan this evening at 9 o'clock. The Tokoro Maru was sent to Gensan to-day to tranship the passengers and cargo which are all safe.

S.S. "Nagata Maru" Ashore.

TIENSIN, 26th November.

The No. 2 Nagata Maru, belonging to Messrs. Oguri & Co., which left Newchwang on the 19th inst., went ashore on a shallow at Cada Cape, Hainan, Shaantung province, 49 miles to the south-east of Taku on the 20th inst. during a storm. The ship had 700 Chinese on board and was bound for Taku. The vessel was dry at ebbside and the Chinese passengers were all landed. Mr. Satō, second officer of the steamer, escorted by two cavalrymen of the local Government, arrived at Tientsin on the 24th and reported the matter to the Consulate here. The Japanese Consul applied to the Chinese authorities to protect the vessel and the Governor of Shaantung wired back that some troops would be sent to the scene promptly. It is reported that the Japanese Consul at Chefoo will negotiate with the Taotai for the despatch of Chinese troops from Chefoo to the scene. Chinese pirates are rife in the district and the Japanese cruiser Takachiho was also sent to the scene from Taku yesterday. The stranded steamer is of 305 tons and carries a crew of eighteen in all.

California Seizes Connection with China.

LO DON, 27th November.

President Roosevelt has signed a contract for a submarine telegraph cable from California to China, via Guam.

ITEMS:—The Chefoo Express in its leading article of the 22nd ult. expresses great hopes of the advent of the Chefoo from the transfer to W. H. Hui of the British garrison now at Shanghai. The building of a breakwater is urged, and it is pointed out that every effort must be made to prevent the shipping trade of Chefoo being attracted by superior facilities to Tsingtao. Japan papers state:—A man who was executed in 1864, one of the "enchu party," and who received posthumous honours as a hero on the occasion of the recent manoeuvres in Kinshu, is still living at Osaka. The sum paid for the lot bought by the Oriental Hotel Co. at Kobe was 29,000 not 290,000 yen. A foreign sailing ship of about 2,500 tons, timber-laden and abandoned, has been cast ashore on the coast of Formosa. Artificial camphor fully equal to the natural product, is being made from turpentine at New York.

THE OTTILIA PEDERSEN:—The crew of the abandoned schooner Ottilia Pedersen have arrived at San Francisco in the transport Sheridan from Nagasaki, leaving Captain J. C. Hanson of the Pedersen in Japan, awaiting orders from the owners of the vessel in that city. The nine men who made up the crew of the schooner were First Mate H. Scheldrop, Second Mate K. C. Barnum and S. J. John, John M. S. Britton, James Murphy, John F. Luley, T. Thoni, A. M. H. and W. B. Moss. It will be remembered that the schooner was bound from Whia-om for Hongkong with a cargo of 900,000 feet of lumber, and on October 5th, when 600 miles off the coast of Japan, lost her rudder, in a gale and began to leak. The leak was kept down by the crew, but the vessel, according to First Mate Scheldrop, was entirely unmanageable without a rudder and went over on her beam ends. The vessel was immediately prospect of the big schooner foundering, when the American gunboat Prince of Wales put in an appearance and took off Captain Hanson and his nine men. Had the Princeton herself not been suffering from some little disability, says Mate Scheldrop, she would have taken the schooner in tow for Nagasaki, but under the circumstances the Pedersen and her cargo had to be abandoned. The Princeton landed the men at Nagasaki on October 10th. The Pedersen's principal owner was Captain John Pedersen of San Francisco, and the vessel was built only last year at Everett, Wash., at a cost of $54,000. She has a gross tonnage of 7,788, with a length of 186 ft., beam of 38 ft., and depth of 13 feet. In the condition the vessel was in when abandoned she would be regarded as a serious menace to navigation, and so far as the returning members of the crew know nothing has been done to remove the schooner and her huge cargo of lumber from the path of vessels.

THE DAIRY FARM COMPANY, LIMITED.

THEIR ABSCONDING SECRETARY ARRESTED.

The sixth ordinary yearly meeting of shareholders of the above Company was held this afternoon at the Company's town depot, No. 2 Lower Albert Road, for the purpose of presenting the report of the Directors and a statement of accounts to 31st July, 1902. There were present:—Messrs. F. Maitland (chairman), E. H. Ili ds, S. A. Seth (secretary), J. Walker (manager), Mr. Hutton Potts, J. M. E. Machado and Li g Wong. After the notice convening the meeting had been read by Mr. S. A. Seth, the Chairman said:—Gentlemen, the report and accounts having been in your possession for some time, I will, with your permission, adopt the usual course and take them as read. During the period under review we have had to battle against a rather bad attack of indigestion, the worst since 1896, but we again got over it without very serious loss to the Company. Still further precautions are now being taken to keep the dreaded disease from our farms. We have often thought that the pest was contracted through imported fodder, and as this is now cooked we hope it will have the effect of freeing us from the disease. Our receipts have increased to a considerable extent, but so have our expenses, and during the year ended 31st July last we spent more than we earned in building four fine new cow-sheds and a dairy house at Pokfulam, including cost of a Pasteurizer, and a sterilizer from home, repairs and alterations to manager's house, and new cattle. Doubtless we shall feel the benefit of this expenditure in the future, but it is a question whether or no we have been extending on a little too large a scale for our small capital. But for the loss of cattle through indigestion our death rate has been small and at present our herd is in splendid health. I would mention that during the past 3 years the flow of milk increases have taken place in cost of maintenance and cattle:—

Food stuffs	60 %
Wages	30 "
Coolie hire (Cartage)	30 "
Cattle	65 "

But for the much larger turnover the Company could not well have been run except at a loss, and the question of a rise in the price of milk is now under the consideration of your Directors.

There appears to be little chance of the cost of maintenance and cattle ever being reduced to the normal prices of a few years ago, and it appears to your Directors that we must meet the increase by charging more for our milk. I have the pleasure to inform you that all our milk is now pasteurized. Our manager tells me that he is of opinion that the change has improved the flavour of the milk, and besides the process of pasteurizing will remove any chance, however small, of sickness from our milk.

I have now to touch with much regret on the disappearance of our late Secretary, Mr. A. P. Moffitt, who absconded early in October after embezzling the Company of a large sum of money. His defalcations to 31st July, 1902, amounted to $5,735.26 and this sum has been written off Profit and Loss account. I am sorry that a sum of $5,296.15 will also have to come out of next account making the large total of $10,031.41 misappropriated funds. It is only say that he was thoroughly trusted by your Directors and that he has deceived them. In immediately I discovered his disappearance I swore an affidavit for his arrest, but unfortunately he had left Shanghai. He has however been arrested in America and the Government have taken up the case as a criminal offence, and have applied to the United States authorities for his extradition. There is, I fear, no chance of getting any of the money back for he started to misappropriate the Company's cash eight months ago. Should any shareholder desire for further particulars of his defalcations I have them before me and can either give them to the meeting or he can wait and I expect them after this meeting. We have engaged Mr. S. A. Seth as Secretary in place of Mr. Moffitt. Your Directors desire to record that they have been very pleased with Mr. James Walker, our manager, for the zeal and attention he has shown to the Company's interests. In view of the great increase in the business of the Company, we engaged at home a Mr. Allan Stevenson, to act as sub-manager and from the testimonials sent out we have every reason to believe that he is very well up in all dairy and farming matters. He is expected to arrive here early next year. Your Directors trust that the division of the profits will meet with your approval and are sorry that the dividend has had to be reduced owing to Mr. Moffitt's defalcations. The policy of writing down our cattle and buildings and adding the reserve is a sound one and it must not be overlooked that our reserve is all in buildings, cattle and stock. Before moving the adoption of the reports and accounts I shall be glad to answer any questions to the best of my ability.

No questions being asked Mr. F. Maitland proposed, and it was seconded by Mr. Machado, that the accounts be adopted and passed.

Carried.

Proposed by Mr. Machado and seconded by Mr. Ling Wong, that Messrs. Noble and Hinds be re-elected directors for the ensuing year.

Carried.

Proposed by Mr. Maitland, seconded by Mr. Machado, that Mr. W. Hutton Potts be re-elected auditor.

The Chairman thanked the gentlemen for their presence, and stated that dividend warrants would be ready to-morrow.

HONGKONG BOUND STEAMER

RESCUES 16 FISHERMEN IN DISTRESS.

The str. Empire arrived from Moji this morning and we learn that on Saturday, in Lat. 27° 54' N. Long 121° 55' E. while the vessel was steaming before a strong N. W. wind and high sea, four small fishing sampans were sighted making signals of distress. Captain W. McArthur immediately stopped and by manoeuvring his ship with consummate skill got all the fishermen on board the steamer. The men, sixteen in number, were unable to save any effects as darkness was coming on and there was fear of losing sight of the boats. The four little derelicts are still, no doubt, floating about the China S. directed by the tide and wind.

TERRIBLE DISASTER OFF NEW ZEALAND.

"ELINGAMITE" A TOTAL WRECK.

From Australian papers to hand we learn that on the morning of the 9th ult., the Australian vessel Elingamite, while on a voyage from Australia to New Zealand was wrecked during a fog on the rocks known as the Three Kings. It is stated that, at least, eight persons sank with the steamer. Forty persons were reported to be missing when the last mail left. A raft with eight survivors was picked up by H.M.S. Pequin. An extended account is withheld until our next issue.

A LULL BEFORE A STORM:—There has not been quieter times in Peking since the Relief of the Legation than exists just now. Rebellions are dead writers, the Peking correspondent of the Shanghai Mercury. No credence is put in the stories about Tung Fushang, the boxers in the south of this province or anywhere else. On the contrary the reports of the Viceroy and Governors that everything is peaceful is accepted. In Sechuen the new viceroy has already agreed on a large part of indemnities arising from the late unpleasantness there. The report of the garrisoning of a town near Harbin by the Russians, because it was in terror of bandits caused no comment. The matter which has unnecessarily caused needless talk was the false report that the military mandarin responsible for the death of Missionary Lewis had been allowed to escape. The Tientsin papers now, four days after the man was beheaded, are still talking of the escape.
